

Which service provider are you?

- Australian Disability Enterprise
- Disability Employment Network
- Vocational Rehabilitation Service Provider

NCS International's experienced team are able to assist you with your regulatory audits through a customer focused approach to suit your organisations requirements. We fully understand the differences between all funded service types, and recognise not all service providers are the same.

NCS International can provide you with Disability Service Standards Certification

Quality Management Systems, customised to meet the challenging needs of organisations in the disability services sector, disability service standards provides organisations with the framework for continual improvement for their staff and clients.

How can we help you

NCS International (NCSI) has a wealth of knowledge in the assessment and certification of the disability services sector. We understand that different requirements are expected of different service providers and we aim to make the audit process informative and a positive experience for all involved.

Our experienced team of auditors and technical specialists have extensive experience directly within the disability and health sectors. This coupled with the vast number of clients within our Government and Health listing ensures we are always able to provide best practice examples that would suit your own business needs.

Our uniquely skilled, collaborative and supportive approach sustains quality outcomes for the clients, communities and staff of disability, Government and health service providers.

Commonwealth Funded Programs:

Disability Employment Services Quality Assurance (DESQA) will apply to your organisation if you are funded by Department of Family and Housing Community Services and Indigenous Affairs (FaHCSIA) and / or Department of Employment Education and Workplace Relations (DEEWR).

As a requirement for funding, disability service providers must be audited by a third party certification body, such as NCSI, to demonstrate they comply with the relevant requirements for their service offering.
